There is no word for "history" in the entire Tanach (Bible). The word used instead is "zachor" (or one of its variant forms, used 169 times to be exact). Zachor, as in Yizkor, means "memory."

"What is the difference between history and memory?" asks England’s Chief Rabbi, Dr. Jonathan Sacks. "History is his story - an event that happened some other time to someone else. Memory is my story - something that happened to me and is a part of who I am. History is information. Memory, by contrast, is part of identity."

We Jews do not believe in "history." We do believe deeply in memory. We are not a people that look backward. There is no backward. There is only forward. However, neither are we a people that forgets who came before us and what they endured, sacrificed and gave to us. Rather, we move forward carrying them with us. We are a people who are committed, above all else, to moving forward while remembering. And this is precisely why we are able to move forward, not in spite of those memories, but because of them.

Thanks to Richard and Esther Salinsky we now are able to offer our Yizkor Virtual Memorial Alcove. This alcove, and the technology within it, allows us to fulfill this mitzvah of memory in ways we never could have even imagined just a few years ago.

Now, in addition to displaying the names of our deceased, we can create on-line family trees. We can also attach a picture and short bio about them. Soon, it is our goal to offer additional services, like uploading videos of our loved ones. The sky is the limit. As technology advances we will continue to advance this ancient mitzvah in ways which truly help us to fulfill its primary purpose - to help us remember.

If you haven’t done so already, be in touch with Marla Gay and get the names, pictures and bios of your loved ones entered into the database. Anyone who already purchased a yahrtzeit plaque at Temple Beth El or Temple Israel, may add photos, bios and family links at no charge. For anyone who never purchased a plaque, now is the time to invest in this remarkable, dare I say holy, service and space. Take advantage of the introductory pricing until April 30.

This is just one more example of how CSH continues to lead the way, carrying our traditions with us and moving them forward with relevance and inspiration.

We Need You

Dr. Emil Berkovits, Cantor Emeritus

You may have read something like this from me before, but I do feel that this message can be repeated, just to keep us all honest. In the Torah we find a quote: “When the Lord saw that he had turned aside to look, God called him out of the bush, Moses! Moses! He answered, ‘here I am’. The burning bush is at the center of that week’s Torah reading. Moses had received several calls and requests from God, and had no choice but to follow them. The events in this Torah portion were not a one-time occurrence. God continued his “nagging” of Moses. Each of us, sometime in our life, experiences what Moses experienced. We feel a call. We hear a voice. We receive an email or a text message. It often resonates deep within our soul or within our heart. At Shirat Hayam, it may be something big like an endowment, a gift to our LEV Initiative or something smaller, like helping make a Minyan at morning or evening services. Big or small, they are all very important to who we are and what we are.

Let us now make some personal changes in our schedule. Moses had all kinds of excuses why not to do what was asked of him. Like Moses, we also come up with excuses. Some of us do have legitimate excuses why we cannot participate in calls or requests, but most of us really do not have a good one. Do we?

As we begin the year 2014, I do hope you hear the call - WE NEED YOU! We need you to join the Minyanaires. Whether a morning service (30 to 40 minutes, depending on the day) or a brief (15 to 20 minutes) evening minyan, invest yourself and, at the same time, become part of something more than you would have imagined. When God calls to us from within the depths of our souls, we must answer with the words of the Bible, “Here I am.” Seriously, we would really love to see you and I know you’ll feel better for it. Let us continue to be known as the only daily minyan on the North Shore 365 days a year.

B’shalom

A Moment of Pride

“Reading Torah is remembrance and re-enactment. When I stand at the bimah with the scroll open before me, I imagine how my grandparents, and their grandparents before them, back down the generations, stood in their synagogues to hear these holy words read. This bright circle of Torah connects my heart to theirs, and I can feel their presence around me as I leyn.”

-Diane Levin, board member and frequent leyner (Torah reader)

When I unroll the Torah and expose my students to its columns of carefully crafted Hebrew verses, they are always deeply moved. They notice the feel and color of the parchment, the glow of the ink, and the precisely formed Hebrew letters. They are struck, as well, by the rules we abide by to show the Torah respect and, through this intimate contact with an actual sefer Torah, students are often reminded of how the Torah has inspired and united our people throughout our history. I have never seen a student, young or old, look at the inside of a Torah scroll with apathy.

Unfortunately, people often underestimate the power of reading from the Torah, and overestimate how difficult it is to learn how. They think it is an activity reserved for clergy and "super-Jews" and don't realize that it's everybody's privilege and obligation to read Torah. Moreover, while it takes a certain amount of learning, it is profoundly gratifying to come up to the Bimah and chant from our sacred text. Learning to read Torah requires, first, that one learns the Hebrew, practically committing a passage to memory. Second, one needs to learn trope in order to chant the verses. Fortunately, recordings for each passage are available and help new leyners internalize both the Hebrew and the melody. The internalization of Torah is both a mitzvah and a precious gift--it is likely to be the door to continued learning and a deeper spiritual life.

I would be honored to help each and every one of you to learn how to read Torah so that you too can experience the joy that Diane so beautifully described above. Please contact me at: cantorelana@shirathayam.org. I look forward to hearing from you!

UKRAINE
Greetings!

We will be making calls to all of our congregants who have not yet taken the opportunity to make their LEV donation. We are counting on 100% participation. If we can get 100% of our families to participate, we will not only meet, but exceed our funding goal. Help us close our funding gap and allow us to provide you with the amazing services and programs to which you have become accustomed.

Shirat Hayam is in the forefront of Conservative Judaism in the country. Rabbi HaLevi has been asked to speak at national conventions to promote radical hospitality and talk about our success. Part of this success is YOUR participation in services, programs, education and social gatherings. Help us continue to be the beacon of light that has transformed our Jewish community and is leading the way across the country.

The CSH bylaws require us to assess our members if the budget is not balanced. We are optimistic that we can avoid this with your help. Give from your heart. It’s your continued participation that we’re asking for. Let us know that we’re on the right track.

Thank you for supporting Shirat Hayam,

David and Joe

Shalom Chaverim:

This month we celebrate Tu B’Shevat on January 16th – the new year of the trees.

Our text tells us this story:

Honi Hama’agal was journeying on the road and saw a man planting a carob tree. He asked, “How long does this tree take to bear fruit?” The man replied, “Seventy years.” Honi asked further, “Are you certain that you will live another seventy years?” The man answered, “I found [full grown] carob trees in the world; as my ancestors planted these for me, so I too plant for my children. Honi sat down to have a meal, and sleep overcame him. As he slept, a rocky formation closed around him, hiding him from sight, and he continued to sleep for seventy years. When he awoke, he saw a man gathering the fruit of the carob tree and he asked him, “Are you the man who planted the tree?” The man answered, “I am his grandson.” –Talmud Ta’anit 23a

In the same way this man planted for his grandchildren, we plant for ours – both physically and spiritually. We teach our children about Judaism: its history, language, culture and rituals – to create their Jewish identity and nurture it as it grows and strengthens. We pass our heritage from one generation to the next (l’edor vador).

We don’t spend all of our time on intangibles – we also teach skills and rituals – and when possible, celebrate how Judaism intersects with our modern lives and enriches it.

Last spring, we launched our Gan Shirat Hayam – our own CSH garden project. Brotherhood helped build the garden beds, the Garden Committee organized and managed the planting, watering, and maintenance, and our own students planted the first crop. The Gan is a wonderful example of our volunteer community coming together for a physical and spiritual purpose.

Our crops were served at our own Shabbat Cafe lunch, as well as donated to My Brother’s Table in Lynn, and our CJE students learned about Jewish ecology from our teachers and their fellow students. As we celebrate Tu B’Shevat this year, let’s keep our garden growing strong! If you are interested, just email garden@shirathayam.org. See page 14 for some of our favorite moments from this season.

L’Shalom,

Jed
Ma Nish’mah? What’s Happening?

What an amazing season of programming we already have on the books and it’s only January! Some of the things we are offering over the winter and spring are the second Connections Widow and Widowers event, Brotherhood’s Texas Hold ‘Em, Shabbat Olam - Ukraine, Mishloach Manot, PJ Library Little Scientist Program, Baking with Bubbe, Tu B’Shevat, Chair Yoga, An Evening of Health and Wellness, Magic Minyan, Second Night Seder and more.

Did I mention the return of the popular Summer by the Sea Series? It was so popular, it’s starting in the spring! CSH has purchased a small block of tickets to see “Not By Bread Alone” at the Paramount Theater. This is a performance that our group saw in Israel two summers ago. Here’s a brief description:

“Eleven deaf-blind actors from Israel’s ground-breaking Nalaga’at Theater Ensemble take audiences on a tour through their inner worlds of darkness and silence. As the cast bakes bread in real time on a fully-lit stage, they tell stories through sign, movement, and spoken word that express their own magical dreams and desires. While the bread is rising in the oven, the audience gains unique access to a magical world where the senses are challenged like never before.”

I can tell you first-hand that this was an awe-inspiring theatrical performance. Ticket information is on page 24. Check out the rest of the programs on that page too!

It is going to be a great year and I look forward to sharing it with you!

L’hitraot,
Marla

Happy and Healthy New Year to everyone! I’m going to start off the year on an upbeat note (I’ll talk about funerals next month). We’ve celebrated an overwhelming number of simchahs here on Shabbat over the last few months. For those of you who have joined us, there have been very moving and touching moments and many amazing milestones. Just to clarify, as a Shirat Hayam member you have the privilege of receiving an Aliyah for an anniversary, wedding or B’nai Mitzvah (or anything else), a birthday, a baby naming, an upcoming trip, in memory of a loved one, an Auf Ruf (for just the groom or both, bride and groom), or for any other reason, for NO fee. Let me repeat, there is no fee to celebrate a wonderful occasion and to receive a blessing here at any of our services, including Shabbat. We are happy to be able to share your wonderful simcha with you (with or without your family and friends). We will work with you to arrange the aliyot and to speak with clergy. However, the only fee that we ask of you is when you co-sponsor the Kiddush in honor of the occasion. Our feeling is the more the merrier; however, our Shabbat Café’s cost money. That’s where we ask you to make a donation towards the food for Shabbat Café. We’ll even reserve tables for you and your guests, or not. We’ll help you with decorations if that’s what you want. We won’t turn anyone away. We want to celebrate with you! And, if you’ve been here when we’ve had cake… EVERYONE loves cake!! Please feel free to contact me if you’d like to accept an Aliyah or have something to celebrate. We all look forward to working with you.

Early Mystic Minyan - 8:30 am

As it says in the Mishnah, the early mystics would gather together and sit for an hour before even attempting to formally engage in prayer. So too at CSH we offer the Early Mystic Minyan as an option for practitioners of meditation to come and sit as we begin to open up the space of our Sanctuary on Shabbat and of our hearts in the early quiet hours before the crowds arrive. There will be minimal, if any, instruction for the first fifteen minutes. It is a time to gather one’s self and one’s thoughts together through individual prayer without words.

Renewal Minyan - 8:45 - 9:50 am

The Renewal Minyan is an attempted synthesis of keva – the traditional structure of tefillah (Jewish prayers) with kavanah – spiritual depth within the prayer itself. During the Renewal Minyan we are committed to traversing the Shabbat morning tefillot structure (Birkot HaShachar, P’sukeni D’Zimrah, Shachrit), but not necessarily davening (praying) each and every prayer along the way. Our aim, again, is to strike a balance between breadth and depth, and within a one hour period that is a fine balance, to be sure.

Living Minyan: Traditional Prayers and Learning - 9:00 am

The great thing about being Jewish is to be part of a tradition that is thousands of years old! But if you can’t read Hebrew, don’t know the words, or maybe can’t carry a tune, tradition can feel a little daunting. Would you like to learn more about the traditional morning service that greets the day on Shabbat? Come and join Cantor Emil and friends in a safe, welcoming space to discover the beauty of traditional Jewish liturgy, prayer and song in a user-friendly format. You can build your knowledge and self-confidence, and impress your bubbe or grandchild. Everyone’s invited, including the tone-deaf and non-Hebrew-readers!

Yoga Minyan - 10:00 am

A full-body Shabbat experience. Yoga Minyan incorporates yoga practice with a Shabbat theme.

Magic Minyan - 10:45 - 11:30 am

Musical Shabbat programs for the littlest ones and their grown-ups. Magic Minyan with Marcy (Preschool age and under) is held on the second Saturday of the month.

Philip Roth - The Ever-Changing Author

Join Izzi Abrams for a two part program where we will look at two works by Philip Roth, his debut novella, Goodbye, Columbus, published when he was 26, and his last work of fiction, Nemesis, published in 2010 when he was 77. We will look at Roth as a young man through his early work and see him as an ever-changing author in his later years. It is recommended that you read these two short books for this program. They are both available at the public library or can be ordered through Amazon. We will also be viewing part of Philip Roth: Unmasked, a PBS American Masters Program.

Chesed Committee

Karynn Needel and Beth Hoffman, Co-chairs

The Chesed Committee has been very busy lending a hand by providing meals, rides, visits and general emotional support to the congregation, as needed. The committee’s mission is to help congregants and their families in times of crisis. They are the first responders, there to do triage until other “sources” are notified and become available.

If you want to become a part of this GREAT committee, please let us know. There is a little something for everyone to do within the Chesed Committee!

Please contact us if you know of someone in need. We can only help those that we know about.

Thank you!
