Expeditionary Learning is an educational philosophy which is growing rapidly around the country (and was recently introduced to this community through Noah Hartman, Head of School at Cohen Hillel Academy - and a direction which CHA is embracing next year). It is the simple premise that human beings in general, children in particular, learn best through experience. We are not merely intellectual beings, rather we are intellectual, emotional and spiritual in nature. More often than not, however, we focus primarily on the brain of our child, particularly the left half of the brain at that. But a child is more than a left brain. A child is more than a right brain. Yes, the head is an important limb, but so are the arms and the legs. Yes, intellectual education is an important aspect of education, but certainly not the only one. There is also emotional education and spiritual education. Some kids learn through sitting and thinking. Other kids, however, learn through standing, moving and dancing.

Our role as parents, teachers, cantors and rabbis is to educate the whole child. But the truth is that for too long, in secular and Jewish settings, we have not. Yes, we need intellectual rigor. Yes, we need classroom, instructional learning. However, equally we need engaging experiences too.

Right after the Shema we recite the “V’ahavta:”

You shall love Adonai your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your might.

Take to heart these instructions with which I charge you this day. Impress them upon your children.

Recite them when you stay at home and when you are away, when you lie down and when you get up...

Thousands of years ago our sages understood that if we are going to inspire our children and grandchildren then we need to not only speak words of Torah but live them - at home and away, when we lie down at night and when we rise up to begin our day. In the words of Rabbi Dov Peretz Elkins, “Judaism is not a spectator sport.”

It is for this reason that we at CSH are focused right now on youth education. Cheryl Schwartz and Beth Tassinari, our CJE co-directors, along with Cantor Elana, myself, teachers, lay leaders and other local Jewish professionals and educators (particularly Noah Hartman) are working hard to refine, as well as re-imagine, our educational goals, curriculum and experience.

Starting this fall we will begin to explore a more experiential style of learning (particularly for the older grades) incorporating field trips, mult-media style learning, Hebrew immersion, cultural arts and much more. Although we are well underway in designing next year’s curriculum, it is a work in progress and we welcome your input. We are committed to offering a Judaism that speaks to all of our children, all of their being, all of their HEART, all of their SOUL and all of their MIGHT.

Stay tuned for more and don’t hesitate in reaching out. We want to hear your thoughts - left and right brain too.

Yiddish Theater

The American Yiddish Musical Theater, commonly referred to as “Second Avenue” (as opposed to “Broadway”) was a modern folk artform that developed in the early twentieth century, reaching its peak in the 1930s. It began as Jews from Eastern Europe immigrated en masse to America. As Jews reached “di goldine medine” (“the golden land”) they searched for partnership, community, and a venue to express themselves. This is exactly what the Yiddish Theater offered. Similar to its Broadway counterpart, the genres ranged from serious to comedic, high brow and intellectual to mass-oriented and even trashy. The Yiddish Theater was a people’s institution, a great equalizer, not limited to a particular socio-economic group. The growing Yiddish speaking community, immigrants in a new land, had a venue to express their joy as well as their struggles.

This year, we will kick off our summer with our "Summer by the Sea" adult ed series. Please join me on June 12 at 7:30 pm for a lecture-concert on the American Yiddish Musical Theater of Second Avenue. I will teach the history of this great artform, the major composers and stars, and I will sing some of the great Yiddish hits, accompanied by our High Holy Day pianist, Tal Zilber.

Can’t wait to see you on June 12!

We will look at Roth as a young man through his early work and see him as an ever-changing author in his later years. It is recommended that you read these two short books for this program. They are both available at the public library or can be ordered through Amazon. We will also be viewing part of Philip Roth: Unmasked, a PBS American Masters Program.

Yiddish Theater

In the 1920s on the Lower East Side of Manhattan, the Yiddish Theater was booming. As popular and high quality as Broadway, the Yiddish Theater drew from some of the greatest talents of the time. Join Cantor Elana as we explore the Yiddish Theater of Second Avenue: the history, the stories, and the music.
Leslie Rooks Sack, Preschool Director

The school year came to a close with our annual tradition of purchasing and donating food to the Jewish Food Bank. The money for the food was collected from the children’s Tzedakah boxes, as each week they brought coins to contribute. There were many lessons learned by the children from contributing to Tzedakah - identifying, sorting, counting, adding up the coins - but the most important lesson was understanding the significance of giving to those less fortunate. We thank Cheryl Schwartz for continuing the connection between our Preschool and the Jewish Food Pantry.

Our end-of-the-year Preschool Family Night was a huge success as the teachers, children and their families celebrated friendships created all year. Curious Creatures entertained the children with ‘real live’ animals to learn about and pet; and the children sang “Let It Go” accompanied on the piano by Jane Michigan (daughter of Preschool Teacher Alison Michigan), and leading the children in song was Jane’s friend, Tatum Johnston. Our thanks go to Jennifer Bookman for organizing this event, and to Ari Selby for her assistance. The Preschool sends much appreciation to Jennifer for preparing such a delicious meal, with several food choices to appease all appetites, including those with food allergies.

Summerthing Camp is underway and loaded with lots of smiling children! Our outdoor play spaces have been transformed into ‘camp mode’, complete with ALL ACTIVITIES CAMP. Two special additions to our daily outdoor learning fun is caring for the Gan Garden, and hearing the sounds of the Atlantic Ocean right in our backyard!

Please know there are limited openings available for our 2014-2015 school year, with extended PlayCare (daycare) options, beginning at 7:30 a.m. - 6:00 p.m., all year long, for children ages 3 months to 5 years. Please see me for more details.

Have a good summer!

Leslie

Cheryl Schwartz and Beth Tassinari, Co-Directors

As CJE enters into a transitional year, we want to assure all our families that the school year will be a smooth one, and that any changes made will be subtle, but constructive.

The Tuesday/Wednesday lab/Shabbat format will continue. Some changes to the Hebrew curriculum for grades K through 5 are in the works; and two new, cutting edge themes are being put into place for the upper grades. The biggest curriculum update is for grades 6, 7 and up.

In grade 6, the students will be focusing on Israel, its history and its place in our high tech society. Rabbi B will be the main teacher for this program, “Chai Tech”, with guest speakers every few weeks. Cantor Elana will continue to meet with grade 6 for "B’nai Mitzvah Boot Camp".

Grades 7 and up will see a whole new approach, "The Olam Experience". This curriculum is truly an "experiential" program, complete with field trips and a variety of instructors.

The younger grades (K through 5) will see an increase in Hebrew/T’Filah instruction, with emphasis on learning the prayers for Friday nights and Shabbat mornings. The culmination of this learning will be a Friday night service and dinner for all families.

The B’Yachad program will continue under the supervision of Melissa Caplan. She will coordinate all our students with learning challenges, to be sure that they are included in all classroom activities.

As always, parent input and participation is a needed and most welcome part of our program. Join us for a parents’ meeting on Thursday, June 5 at 7:30 pm. If you have any questions or wish to speak to either or both of us, please do not hesitate to call or send a note.

With warm regards for a wonderful summer,

From Cheryl:

It is an honor for me to accept the position of Co-Director of the Center for Jewish Education.

My teaching career has taken me down many paths.

I have taught at the New England Hebrew Academy (the Lubavitch Yeshiva), the Machon School in Swampscott (grades 5 and 6), Temple Emanu-El Hebrew School, Temple Israel Hebrew School and Temple Beth El Preschool. I have tutored, both privately and through the public school system, and I was the director of the Temple Israel Preschool for over 10 years. I am presently teaching at Shirat Hayam Preschool. I have taught in the CJE, and have been the Judaic Coordinator working closely with Jed Filler.

I am committed to continuing the excellent education that CSH is known for giving to its students.

From Beth:

I am very excited to take on the position as co-director of the Center for Jewish Education at Shirat Hayam. For several years, I worked in the computer software industry. It was a great experience, but it was not my true passion. I have taught in Hebrew schools from the time I graduated high school. My passion was in teaching. And after many years of contemplation, I decided to pursue my passion... I went back to school and received a Master of Jewish Education degree from Hebrew College. It is a great feeling for me to be following a long line of educators in my family. My mother, of blessed memory, was a high school teacher. My uncle, of blessed memory, was Dean of Jewish Studies at the University of Florida and my grandfather, of blessed memory, was a “chazzan” – to name a few of my favorite mentors. How lucky I feel to have gotten my dream job in our community (four years ago), as a kindergarten and first grade Hebrew and Jewish studies teacher at Cohen Hillel Academy!

As co-director at CJE, I look forward to bringing some of my philosophies of experiential education and my passion for Hebrew and Israel to Shirat Hayam.
This issue of the Wave is the “summer” issue. There are not a lot of programs or extra services in the summer, but that doesn’t mean that there’s not a lot happening. In fact, for those of us on staff at CSH, this is a VERY busy time of year. We are busy preparing the building and making all the arrangements for the High Holy Days. Imagine a wedding with 1,100 guests that lasts for 2 evenings and 3 days. In fact, the High Holy Days are just a piece of what’s happening. CSH’s new Co-Directors of our religious school are busy planning the new curriculum that is fresh and exciting. They can’t wait to share it with all of you. There is a parents’ open forum scheduled for June 5 at 7:30 pm. If you are interested in what’s coming up for our students, you are welcome to attend. Summerthing summer program of the Preschool will be in session and the teachers will be preparing the classrooms for the fall.

Renovations are planned for the summer. If the timeline works out, you’ll see some wonderful changes. Also, some of us are moving our offices around to maximize the space that we have.

In the spirit of community collaboration, we are celebrating erev Shavuot with our friends from Temple Sinai at the JCC on June 3 at 8:00 pm. Join us for The Summer by the Sea series that continues with Izzi Abrams on June 5 and Cantor Elana on June 12. As I write this, there are only 4 tickets remaining for the trip to Tanglewood in July. Likely, by June 1 - it will be sold out!

We’re planning an open house on September 6th. Do you have friends who are unaffiliated that might be searching for their spiritual home? Any CSH family that brings in a new CSH family that joins before the High Holy Days, will receive a free High Holy Day ticket!

27 people are traveling to Israel with Rabbi B and Shirat Hayam this summer. If you missed your opportunity for this trip, start thinking about 2016!

In August, we’ll be celebrating Kabbalat Shabbat at the JCC pool - this is tentatively set for August 22nd, but watch for updates.

Please continue to read your email updates, because things may be added or changed. As always, don’t hesitate to call if you have any questions.

I wish you a safe and fun summer, and hope to see you either at CSH or the beach!

Early Mystic Minyan - 8:30 am

As it says in the Mishnah, the early mystics would gather together and sit for an hour before even attempting to formally engage in prayer. So too at CSH we offer the Early Mystic Minyan as an option for practitioners of meditation to come and sit as we begin to open up the space of our Sanctuary on Shabbat and of our hearts in the early quiet hours before the crowds arrive. There will be minimal, if any, instruction for the first fifteen minutes. It is a time to gather one’s self and one’s thoughts together through individual prayer without words.

Renewal Minyan - 8:45 - 9:50 am

The Renewal Minyan is an attempted synthesis of keva – the traditional structure of tefillah (Jewish prayers) with kavanah – spiritual depth within the prayer itself. During the Renewal Minyan we are committed to traversing the Shabbat morning tefillot structure (Birkot HaShachar, P’seukei D’Zimrah, Shachrit), but not necessarily davening (praying) each and every prayer along the way. Our aim, again, is to strike a balance between breadth and depth, and within a one hour period that is a fine balance, to be sure.

Living Minyan: Traditional Prayers and Learning - 9:00 am

The great thing about being Jewish is to be part of a tradition that is thousands of years old! But if you can’t read Hebrew, don’t know the words, or maybe can’t carry a tune, tradition can feel a little daunting. Come and join Cantor Emil and friends in a safe, welcoming space to discover the beauty of traditional Jewish liturgy, prayer and song in a user-friendly format.

Yoga Minyan - 10:00 am

A full-body Shabbat experience. Yoga Minyan incorporates yoga practice with a Shabbat theme.

Nosh and Drash - 10:00 am

Grab a cup of coffee and a nosh at the Boker Tov Café, and join the guest rabbi or scholar for a Torah-based Shabbat learning experience.

Magic Minyan - 10:45 - 11:30 am

Musical Shabbat programs for the littlest ones and their grown-ups. Magic Minyan with Marcy (Preschool age and under) is held on the first Saturday of the month.

Nosh & Drash

Pick up your “nosh” at the Boker Tov Café and enjoy a Torah study session in the social hall with the following guest scholars for June:

CSH Minyannaires

Thank you to the following members for supporting daily services in May:

*denotes service leaders

We are very fortunate to have the above minyannaires attend when they can. However, please know that making a minyan twice a day is a challenge.

Please consider helping to make a minyan - once a week, once a month or whenever you can. Those needing a minyan to say kaddish would greatly appreciate it.
Chesed Committee

Nancy Sarles, Chair

I am very happy to introduce myself to you as the new manager of Chesed. Karynn and Beth have given so much thought, energy, and love into making Chesed such a vibrant activity for our congregation. It is my honor to follow their lead.

I live in Marblehead and have been a member of CSH for five years. I am a Fundraising Consultant, a yoga teacher, and founder of Growing Younger Gracefully, a program dedicated to Positive Aging. I am a wife, a mother, and a grandmother. I have found volunteering for Chesed to be a wonderful way to meet other members of our congregation and to fulfill my own desire to give back.

If you are interested in helping out on the Chesed Committee, please let me know. I will not ask you to attend any meetings. I plan to communicate through email as much as possible. However, I am hopeful we can meet each other, exchange ideas, cook together, and enhance what we do and how we do it. I am often at CSH on Saturdays, and always available by email and phone.

Shalom,

Nancy Sarles
